QuestionPro Website Usability Study

1. Confidential information

During this session you may see product features, designs and business plans that are not yet public. All materials shown are the property of QuestionPro and must be treated as confidential.

2. No disclosure

You agree not to record, screenshot, share or discuss anything you see during the session, including on social media, with colleagues or with other research participants.

3. Recording consent

With your permission we record the session, including your screen, camera and voice, for research purposes only. Recordings are stored securely, used internally and deleted after the study concludes.

4. Use of feedback

Your comments may be quoted internally in aggregated form. Personal information is never shared publicly and is handled in line with our privacy policy.
